These rules are subject to change.

Details

Each player's target will be another randomly assigned player. Players will be assigned a new target every Sunday evening between April 17 and May 15; this will be communicated to players in secret via email or text. Each week, players will try to eliminate their target. If a player's target is not eliminated by the end of the week, the player who failed to eliminate their target is eliminated.

The targeting system will end on May 23. During and after May 23, any player may eliminate any other player.

V. Elimination Rules

A. Immunity

Players will be immune to elimination if they are:

1. Wearing a pool floaty between April 18 and May 22. Floaties must be visible and worn over all clothing. Floaties may not be forcefully removed.
2. Inside of a place of worship.
3. Inside of their place of employment.
4. Inside of an Owen J. Roberts building.
5. Representing Owen J. Roberts in an athletic competition.
6. Operating a motor vehicle.

B. Trespassing

With the purpose of eliminating their target, players may not enter another player's home or garage without permission. If a player is asked to leave the premises of another player's place of residence, employment, or worship, they must leave. Failure to do so will result in elimination.

C. Weapons

Players will only be eliminated if they are struck by:

1. Water from a water gun.
2. Water from a water balloon.

If a player is not struck by water from a water gun or water from a water balloon, they will not be eliminated. If a water balloon hits the target player but fails to pop, that player will not be eliminated. If an assassin uses something other than water to attempt to eliminate a target, the assassin will be eliminated.

D. Eliminations

Players must eliminate their target within the assigned week by striking their target with water from a water gun or water balloon. Eliminations may not be made from a motor vehicle, and they must be made on camera. If a player's target is not eliminated by the end of the week, the player who failed to eliminate their target will be eliminated.

When a player eliminates another player, they must send a photo or video of the elimination to the game moderator(s). If the elimination is not on camera, both players – the assassin and target – must confirm the elimination. If this is not done, no player will be eliminated.
